This flyer is different and not the same!

It invites you to try an experiment, to do something other than a demo. Start to change the world directly rather than asking, praying or hoping that others will do it for us or on our behalf.

We all know that our system is going straight into the wall, inequalities are rising both here in this city as well as in France, Europe, Africa and between the South and the North. We feel that it will not go on like this for centuries: the Earth is showing signs of exhaustion. Oil, gas and drinking water will soon run out here, there and everywhere.

The international networks, Global Minga and Climate Justice Action, are calling for a week of action around the world between 12 and 16 October 2010. In France, we are launching this slogan : STOP TOTAL

We're crammed with ideas to get out of the logic of powerlessness and fatalism. We suggest you come and see for yourself on Saturday 16 October 2010 in Le Havre. Meet at 10am outside the station. People are welcome from Friday afternoon.

There, a procession will leave together, to give themselves the right in the city centre to: remove ads, sow seeds, visit a supermarket like you've never done before, to file a lawsuit against Total to give priority to people in cars ... What's all this, don't be afraid it's direct action!

You're waiting for the opportunity to discover what kind of action to do, you are looking for places where to find a lot of people, you want to do something other than protests, petitions and debates?

Come with good shoes, your criticisms of Total, shovels and spades for the guerrilla gardener, marker pens and posters for the anti-ad, your bike to be stronger together than cars, stuff to eat, plastic bottles to make a giant sculpture in memory of the oil industry ...

In the afternoon, the procession will leave to storm the largest refinery in France, to transform it if possible, talk with employees and know that from 16 October, the fear will change sides. We've had enough. We want the joy and determination.

Each person is required. Several hundred is a great day with several thousand, the balance of power changes. And if there is more?

System change, not climate change!
