CASTING NATIONWIDE FOR TELEVISION PROJECT – SEEKING DYNAMIC SWAPPER/BARTERER/TRADER

Hollywood television production company looking to spotlight business-savvy individual(s) with extensive bartering, trading, swapping, collecting and similar experience in a national television series.

LOS ANGELES, November 3, 2010 -- Los Angeles-based television production company Red Varden Studios is currently casting nationwide for an experienced, charismatic, and television-friendly individual who is a savvy business entrepreneur engaged in trade, barter, swapping and/or collectibles to appear in a national television series. The ideal candidate for this show will actively seek out unique objects for sale or trade at swap meets, fairs or online, buy and sell unique or collectible items or swap, trade or barter by any other means. Ideal candidates also have dynamic, outgoing, and engaging personalities, and are aggressive in finding bargains and securing deals. On camera experience is not required. However, candidates must be comfortable in front of the camera and interacting with others.

If you feel you meet the above criteria, please email producers at rvcasting@gmail.com with your name, location, phone number, bio, and a brief description of why you would be perfect for a show like this. Please include 3 or 4 recent photos of yourself.

Red Varden Studios is a television and film production company founded in 2007 in Santa Monica, California.
